EDITORIAL

Welcome to this very special edition of Unique Dorset Fantasy Prints. I hope you enjoy it and that contemplating its [over]exciting contents will help satisfy the many problematic urges which those attracted to fantasy subjects often experience.

Like so many esoteric interests that straddle the borderline between eccentricity and full blown madness, those who choose to make fantasy their lifetime obsession are often deeply misunderstood. Labelling them as “different” - however well-intentioned - is unhelpful; whilst suggesting they pursue alternative and more socially acceptable avenues of curiosity can be both heavy-handed and inadvertently cruel. Here at Unique Dorset Fantasy Prints we are all too familiar with the prejudice attached to what is after all merely a notifiable illness. Several members of the editorial team have been afraid to wear UDFP tee-shirts outside the office for fear of harassment and the sub-editor responsible for pictorial content has had his computer seized by RDC officers on at least two occasions. This is little short of persecution in our view and an attitude which ill-fits our times when - let's face it - anything unusual, diverse, transgressive, peverse or open to categorical non-binary self-identification is more or less de rigeur.

So it is with a deep sense of relief [and not a little trepidation] that we offer this month's selection of the finest barely legal fantasy prints inspired by our beautiful county of Dorset. Several are by well-known and quite well-respected digital artist and photographer Agfa Gaevert. Others are the work of emerging artists, including a number by Royal Dorset Fantasy Academy students in their graduating year [Fuji Kolor, Matte Eastman-Kodakowski [grandson of legendary cinematographer Dierdre], Pana Vishan, Sinni Plecks, Bocks Brownee, Todd Ayo, Iye Max and Ova Expo-Shore].

All in all we believe this to be one of the finest collections of barely-legal , boundary-pushing, hyper-erotic fantasy landscape prints ever brought before the Dorset public. If, however, they don't work for you, we suggest you take out a trial subscription to our sister publication Unique Dorset Porno Pics - the magazine guaranteed to raise the spirits and something else besides!! As Mrs Threadbone often enjoins me: Give it a go!
